THE BUSH CONTEMPT.

Introduction of the Attorney-General.—The Proceedings Resumed.
The Supreme Court in Banco met in the courtroom upstairs at 10:10 this forenoon, for further hearing of Mr. John E. Bush, cited to show cause why he should not be adjudged guilty of contempt of Court.

Mr. A. P. Peterson introduced to the Court his successor, Mr. W. A. Whiting, as Attorney-General.
His Excellency the Attorney-General said there was nothing to be said on this occasion, except that he held Her Majesty's Commission as Attorney-General.

Chief Justice Judd said he had seen the commission of Mr. Whiting and he was recognized by the Court as Attorney-General. In that capacity he would receive the same consideration that had been accorded all his predecessors.

Mr. Whiting said he would endeavor to discharge the duties of the office faithfully. Mr. Chas. Creighton would continue to serve as Deputy Attorney-General.

Mr. Creighton, on behalf of the prosecution, stated that it was unnecessary to read the petition and subsequent proceedings thereto. He called W. L. Wilcox, interpreter, sworn, was answering questions regarding articles in Ka Leo o ka Lahui, when Mr. C. W. Ashford, for the respondent, objected to evidence on any articles prior to that of Feb. 5 complained of.

The Court ruled that, at that stage, the introduction of the paper of the 4th was not admissible.

Witness—This is a translation of the article on "The Judicial Power," here is a notice to subscribers in arrears to make payment to J. E. Bush; another notice gives Bush as Editor and Treasurer; so far as I know the paper has been issued every day, except Saturday and Sunday, at least a year; have heard Mr. Bush speak of it as his paper; believe I am official Court interpreter (smiles), at least have acted as such last few years.

Cross-examined—Have heard Bush speak of articles that appeared without his knowledge—articles other than this—although he was generally watchful; words of heading mean "The Judicial Power" or "The Judiciary"; it may mean either the person or the power of the Judiciary as may be intended; it is elastic, you will find the Hawaiian language pretty elastic.

John Kaca, sworn—Remember seeing this article in Ka Leo; was a subscriber to paper; borrowed a paper from publishing office on the 5th, this is the copy; office is in same yard as Mr. Bush's house.

Mr. Ashford, to shorten matters, admitted that the article was published in the Lahui on the 5th.

J. H. Boyd, sworn—Know Mr. Bush. He is manager or editor of the Lahui; heard him say to a group that he had published an article on Mr. Judd.

Mr. Ashford objects to evidence regarding any article other than the one in question.

The Attorney-General submitted it was competent to introduce the conversation as proof that Mr. Bush was publisher of the paper.

The Court ruled it was admissible to the proof of Mr. Bush's responsibility.

Witness—Mr. Bush said certain information was given to the King by Mr. Judd, which, if not true, should be contradicted, and mentioned that he was contradicting, and publish another article in his paper in regard to the actions of members of the Court; it was the day after the article on the Chief Justice, I think, on the 5th or 6th; it was before the article complained of; (looking at the paper) that paper is dated the 4th, it was after that; that article originated the conversation; am certain it was before I read the article complained of, so it must have been the afternoon of the 4th.

Cross-examined—Know it was after article of 4th, because next morning I read the paper, knowing that it was going to have something; said to Mr. Bush he was going for the judges, and might get himself into trouble; Mr. Wilson, Mr. Peterson and Mr. Bush were there; do not remember other articles with same heading as that in question; read it after getting to the office; the way I remember date is by looking at the paper; my impression is that the conversation was the day before the article appeared; among other things Bush said Charlie Brown told the King that the Chief Justice ordered the firing the day of the insurrection.

Recess from 12 to 1 o'clock.
